

This is from one of our family reunions.

Mama Papa

Bubby

There's Bubby and others…

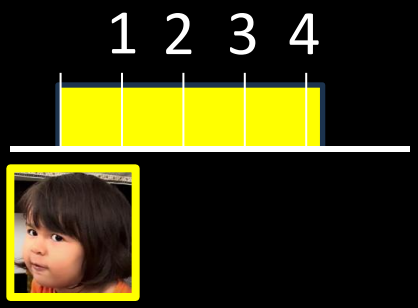

…but where is Surya?

Mama Papa

Bubby

Where is Surya?

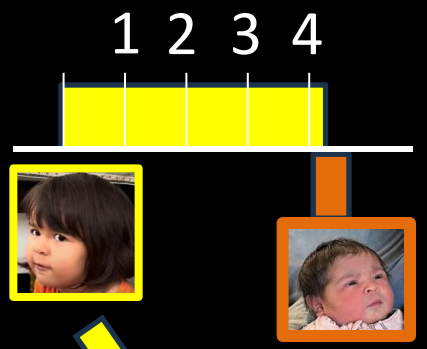

Think of Surya as having a time line.
One year old, two, three, four…

Mama Papa

Bubby

Where is Surya?

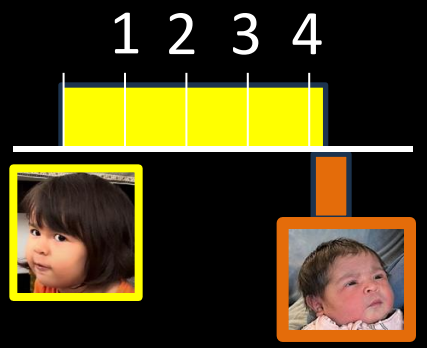

And just when she turned four, Linden came.
Linden also has a timeline, but it's very small.

Mama Papa

Bubby

Where is Surya?

89

Bubby also has a timeline: 1, 2,…89!

But Bubby's timeline doesn't overlap with Surya's.

Mama Papa

Bubby

Where is Surya?

1 2 3 4

89

So Surya and Bubby were not able to meet each other.

(Where was Surya?)

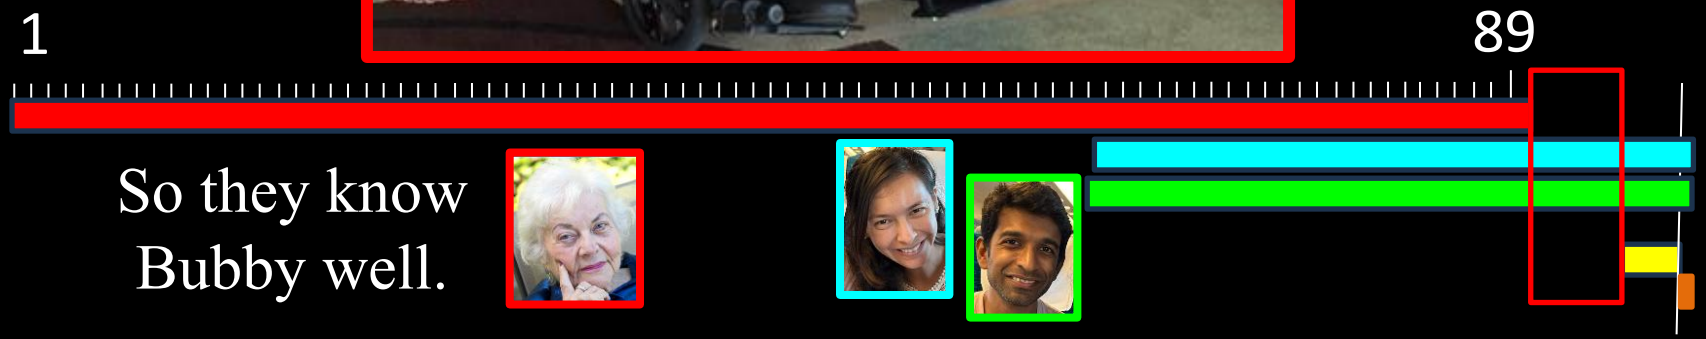

Mama Papa

Bubby

But Mama and Papa's timelines overlap with Bubby's

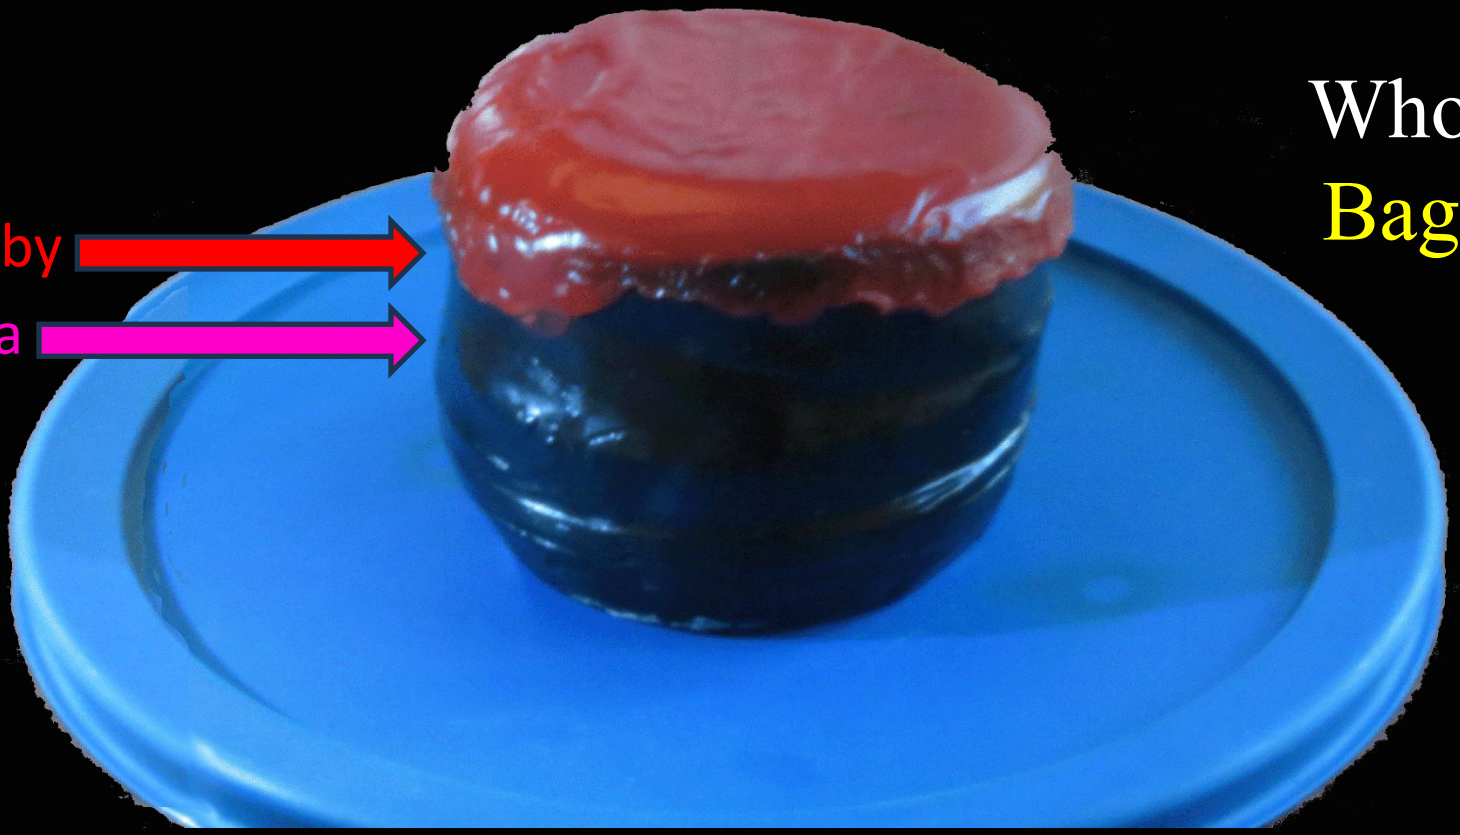

So they know Bubby well.

After Bubby died, some of her ashes were put in this pot.

But there are other ashes in the pot: Baga's!

Who is Baga?

Bubby and Baga's timelines overlap for many years, and they were together for many years.

Mama and Papa's timelines do not overlap with Baga's.

But Ama's and Baba's overlap.

They know Baga very well.

Especially Baba.

Baba's parents

Mama's parents

Surya's parents

I’m going to tell you a bit about Bubby and Baga

…starting with where they lived.

Barcelona

First, where does Surya live?

Barcelona

New Jersey

Here, across the ocean, is where G-Pa and G-Ma live.

New York

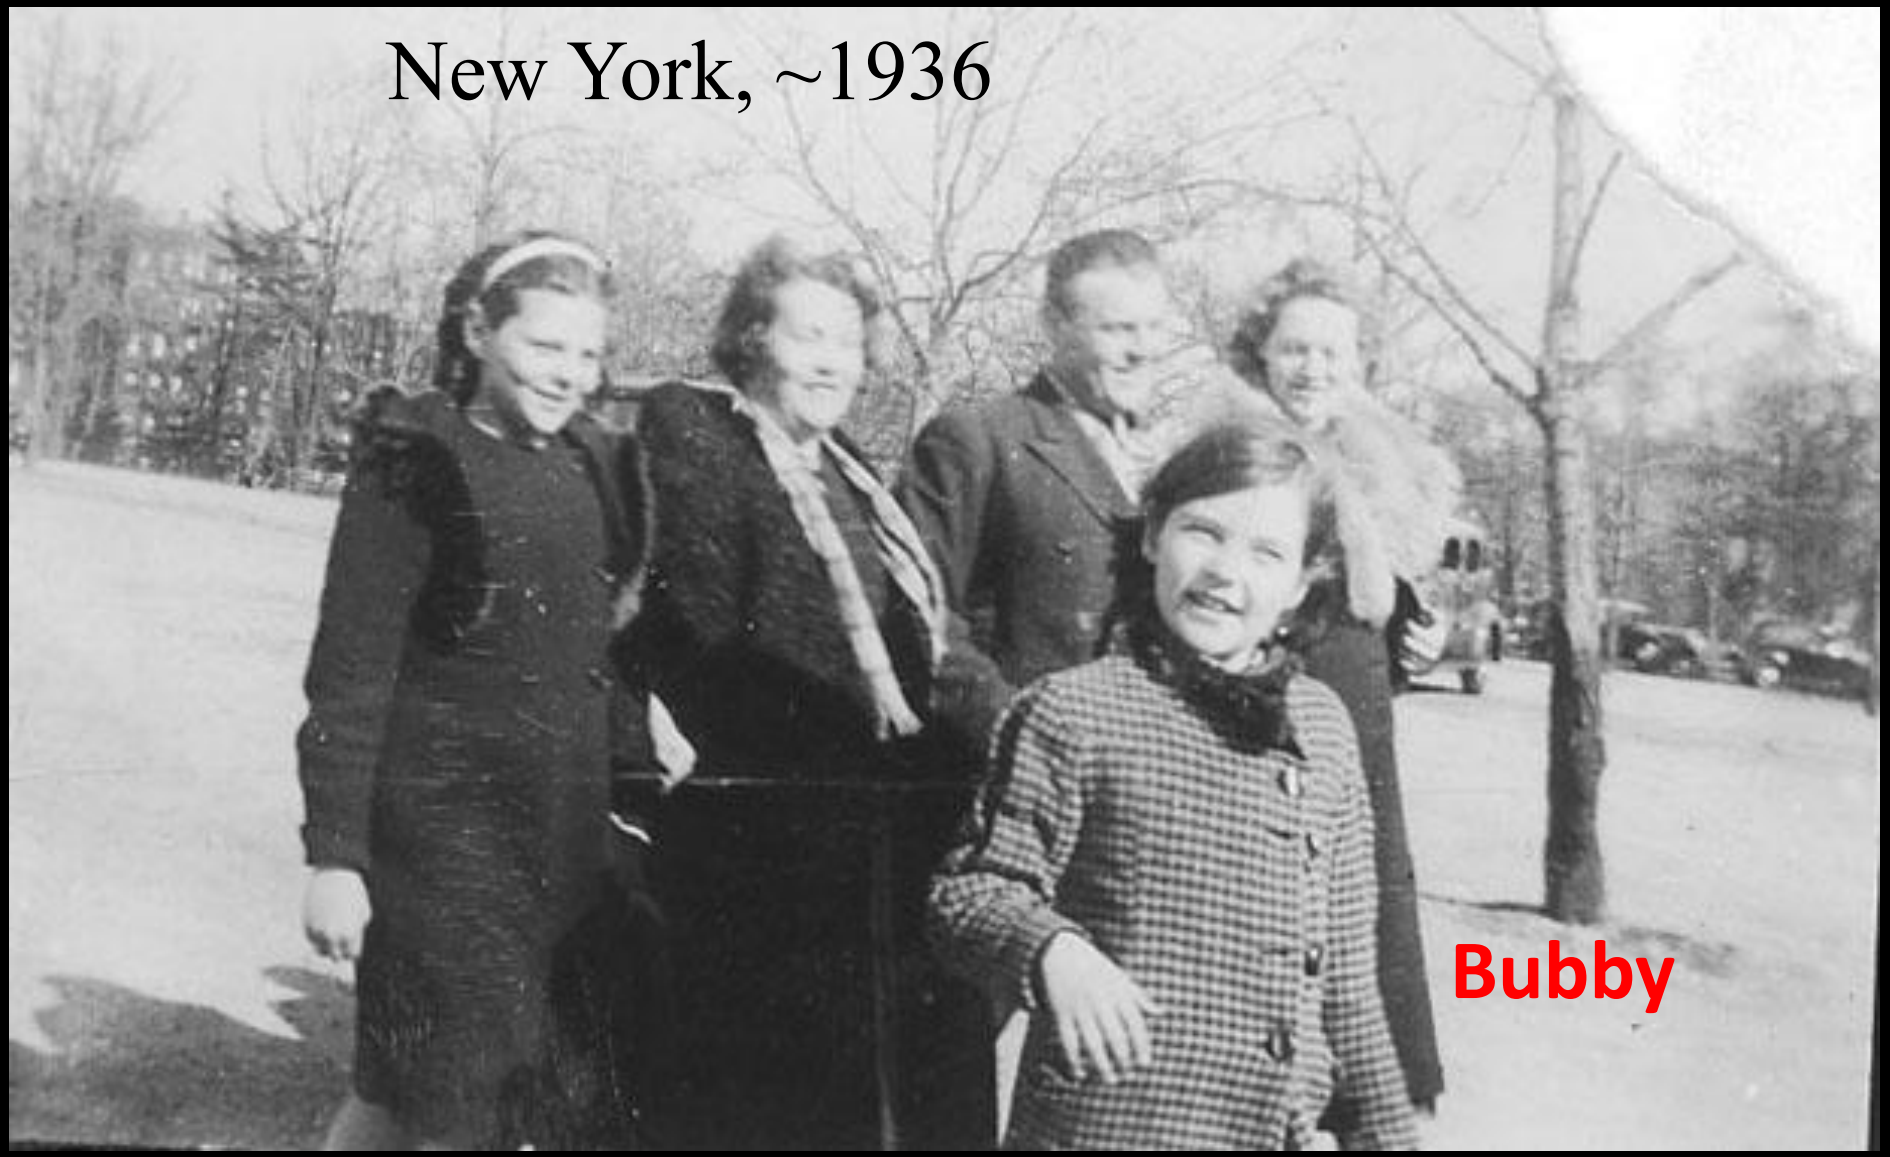

Barcelona

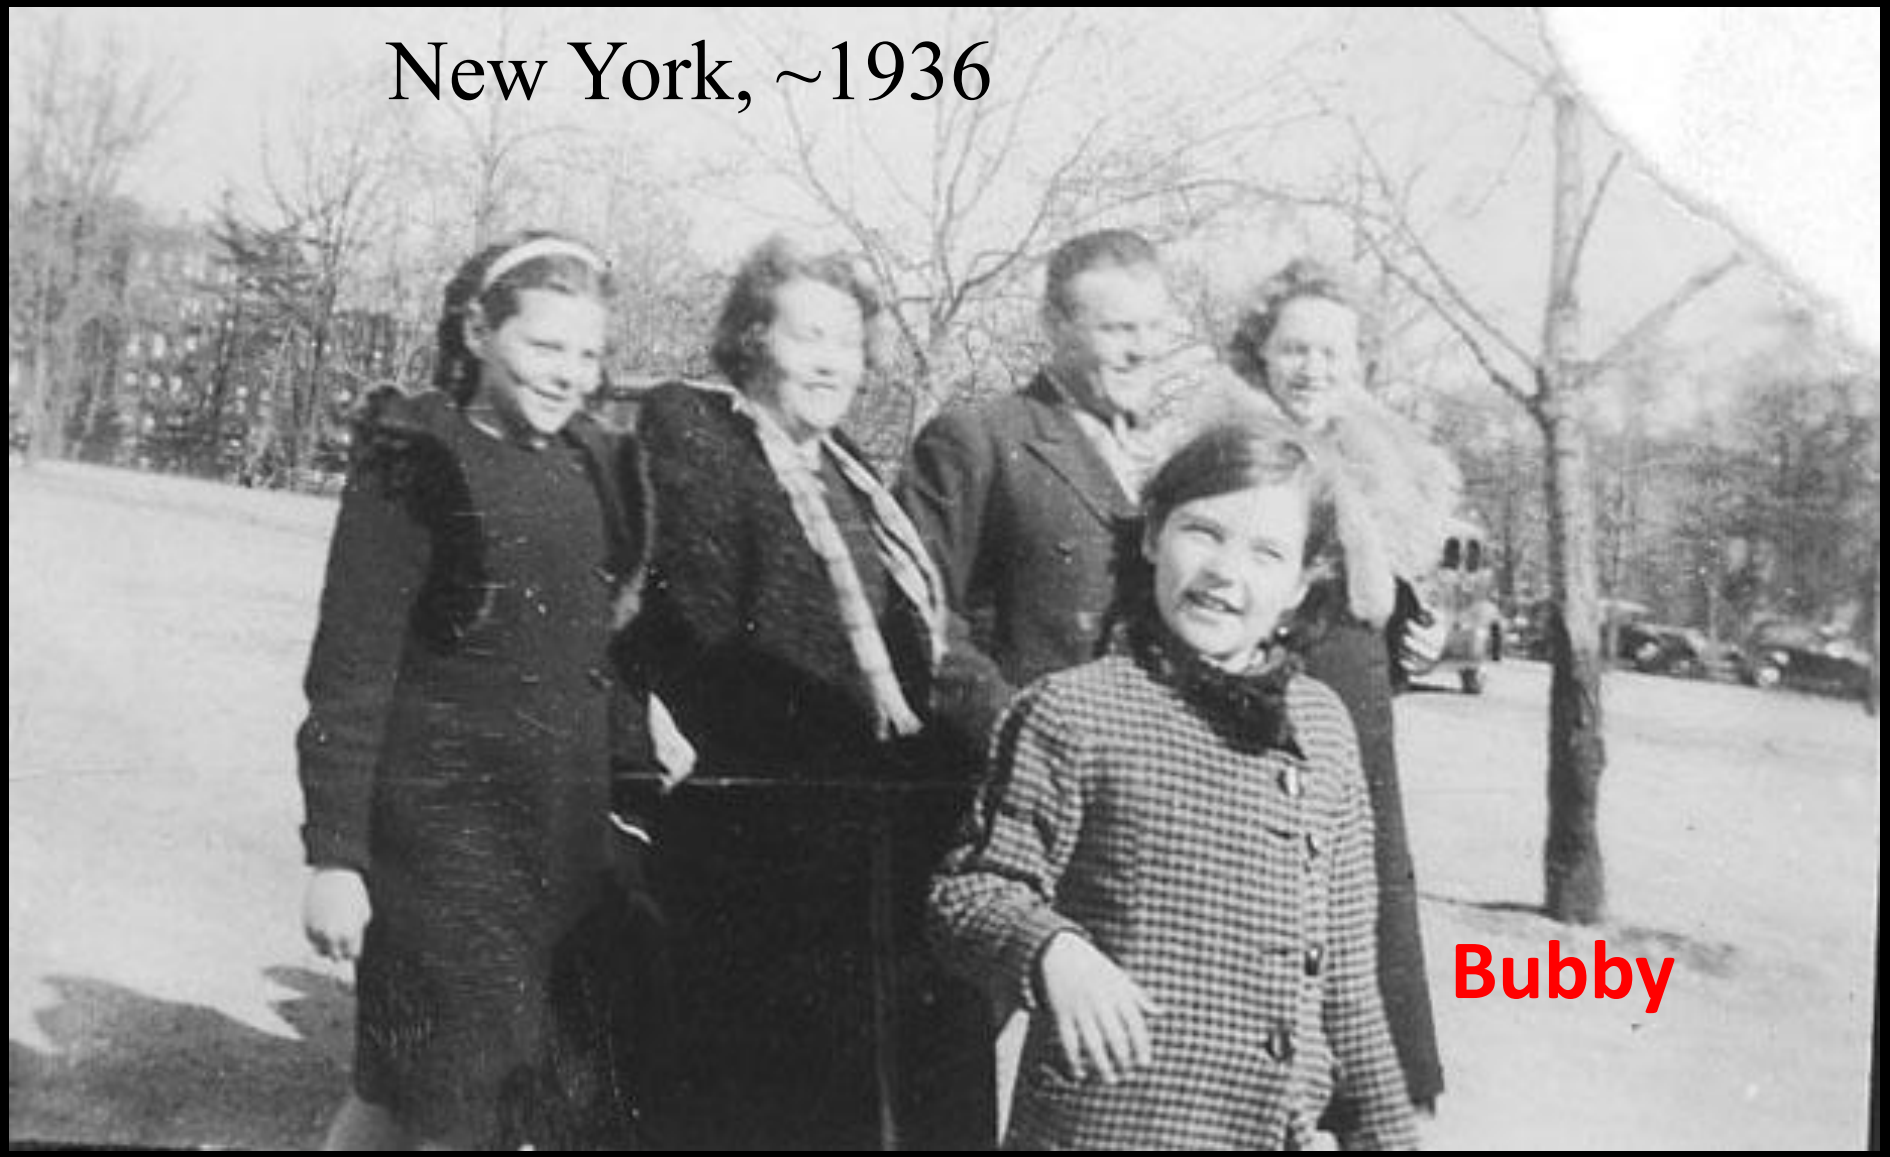

New Jersey

And very close by is where Baga and Bubby grew up.

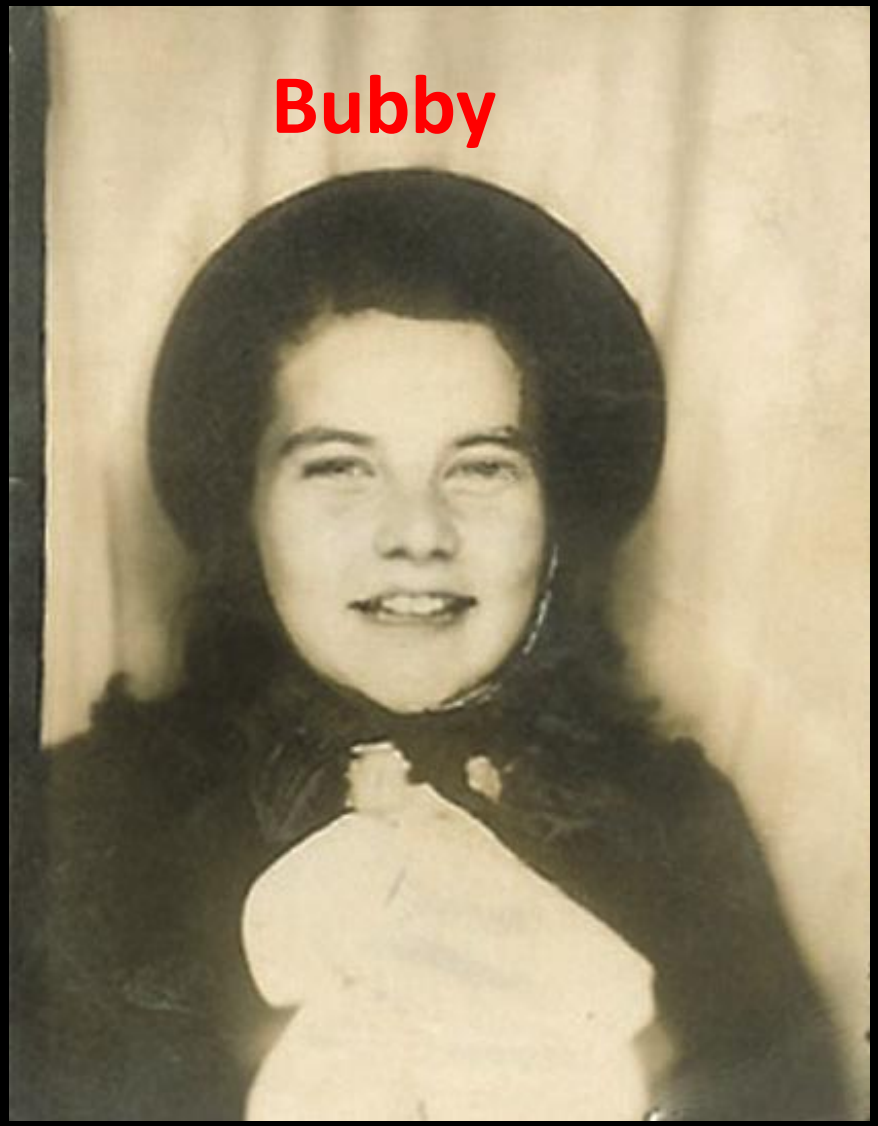

This is some of Bubby's family when she was little – her Mama and Papa and two of her sisters.

She was always looking at the camera.

Here's two more pictures from her time in New York.

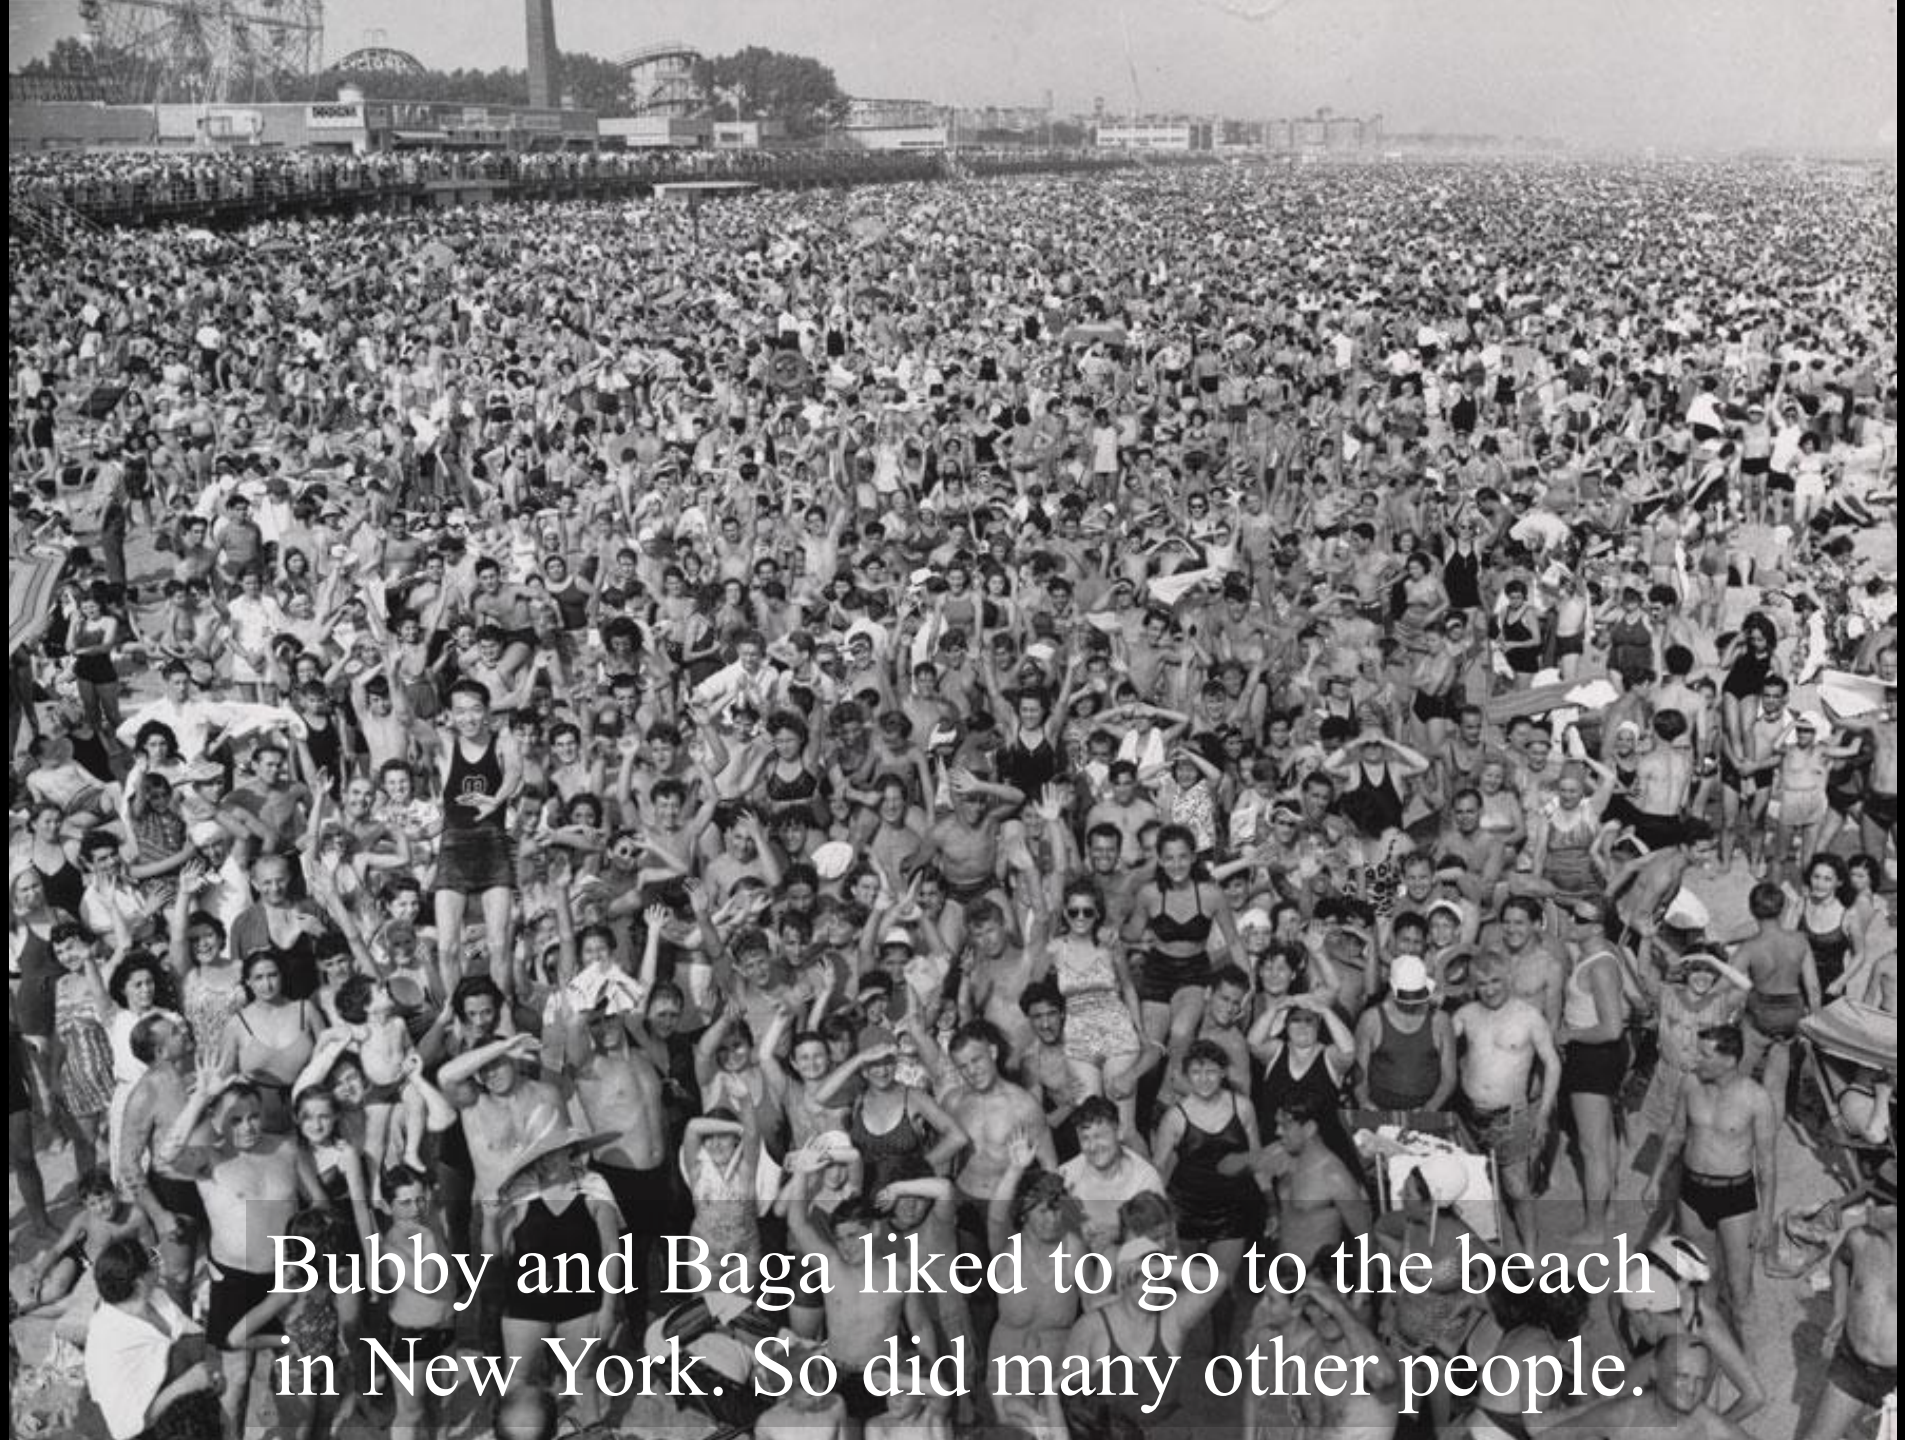

Bubby had many adventures with her sister Bunny.

Baga

I don’t have photographs of young Baga,
but here’s a painting Bubby made later.

Bubby and Baga liked to go to the beach in New York. So did many other people.

But it was easier
to play in the street.

They also went many times to a huge playground called Steeplechase

When Bubby was 15, she went with her sister Bunny across the country to live in Los Angeles.

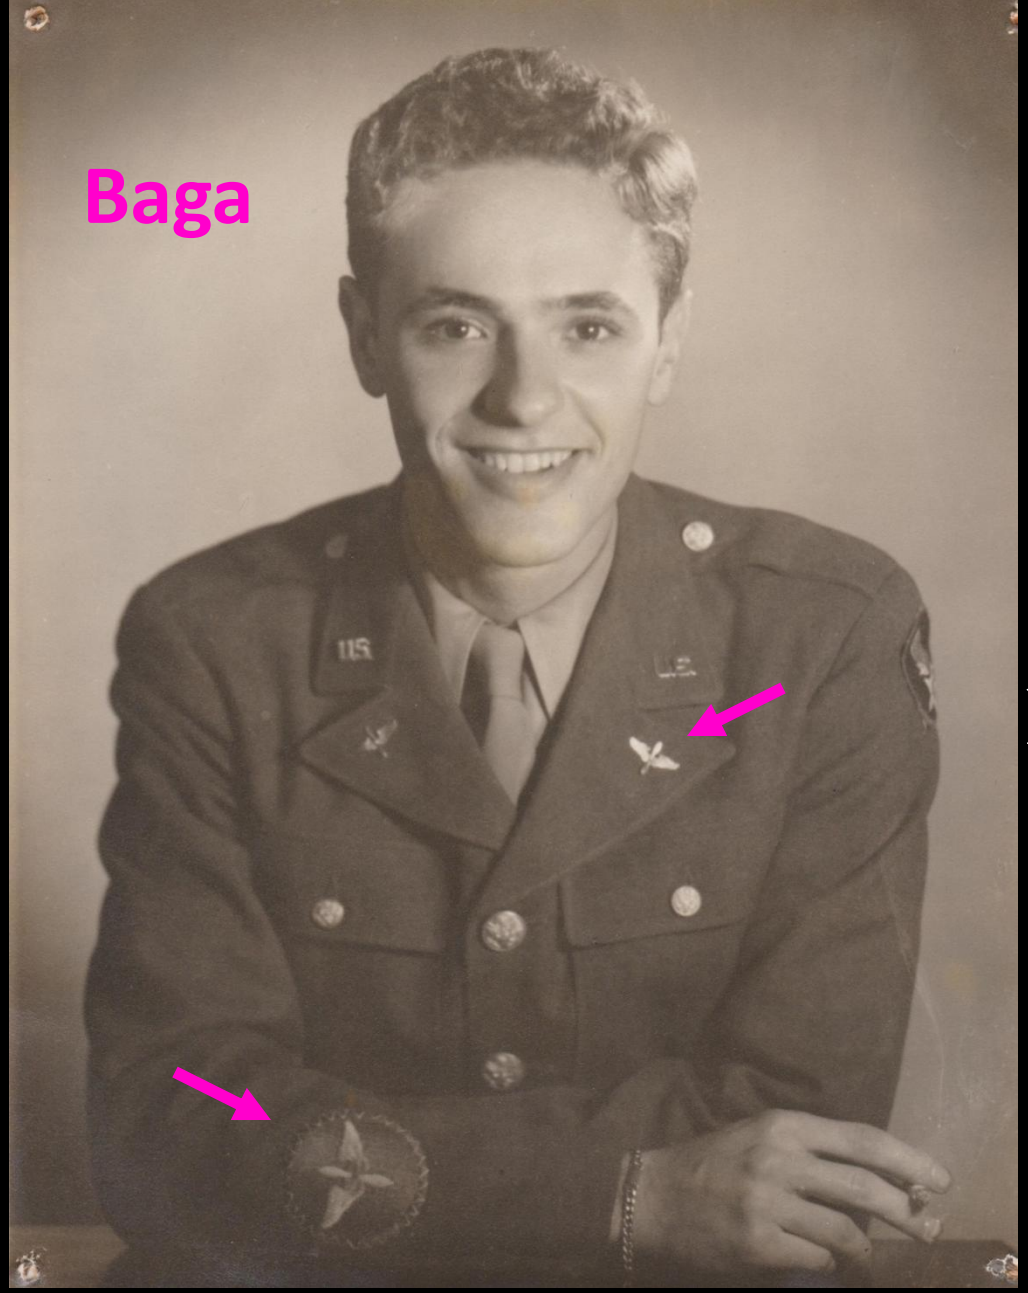

That was during the summer of 1942(?).
There were no airplanes, so they traveled by train.
It took several days.

Here's what Los Angeles looked like then.

Meanwhile, Baga joined the army.

Notice that he's wearing airplanes?

That's because his job was to fly in planes.

Here's his plane

And here's Baga, with the others who flew with him.

Bubby remained in Los Angeles. But they wrote letters to each other.

Baga

Bubby

Didn't I tell you! I have a "Vargo" picture here myself. and its framed with a blue folder type frame. On it its says quote "For you Son" Unquote. and under that its signed "Estelle". So far its travelled with me from Western Field, to Miss State, through Nashville and down to here., and that the only "Vargo" picture Ill ever carry.

Bubby

Meanwhile, Bubby graduated from high school.

She also had thoughts of getting into movies.

Bubby

Baga

When Baga got out of the army, he headed straight to Los Angeles to meet Bubby.

If you look closely at his hand, you'll see why.

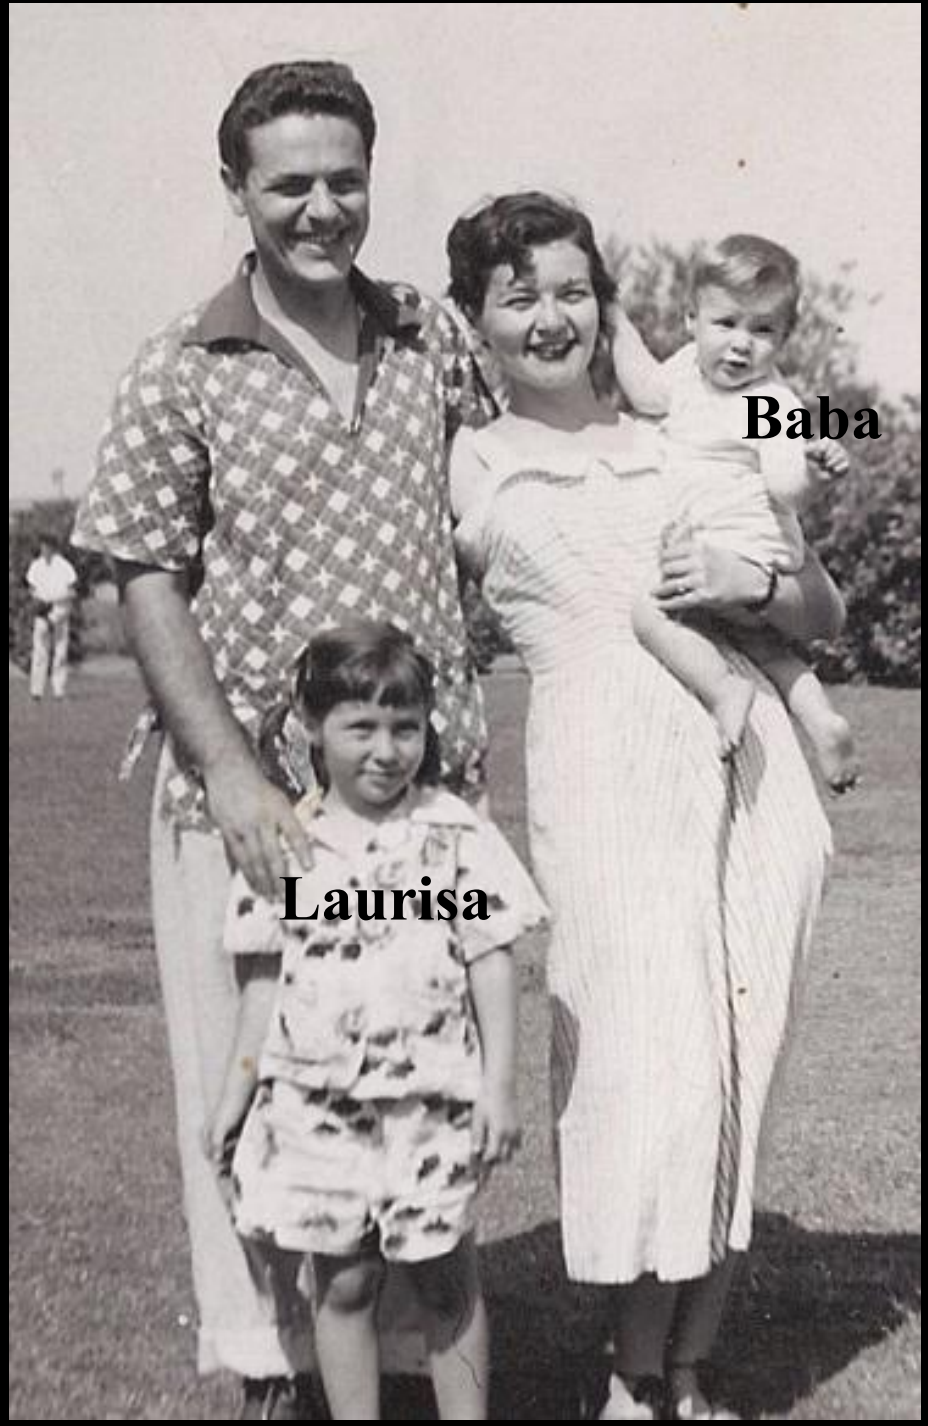

They went to the beach (not as many people).

They had babies. First Laurisa.

Baba
Laurisa

Jack
Joline

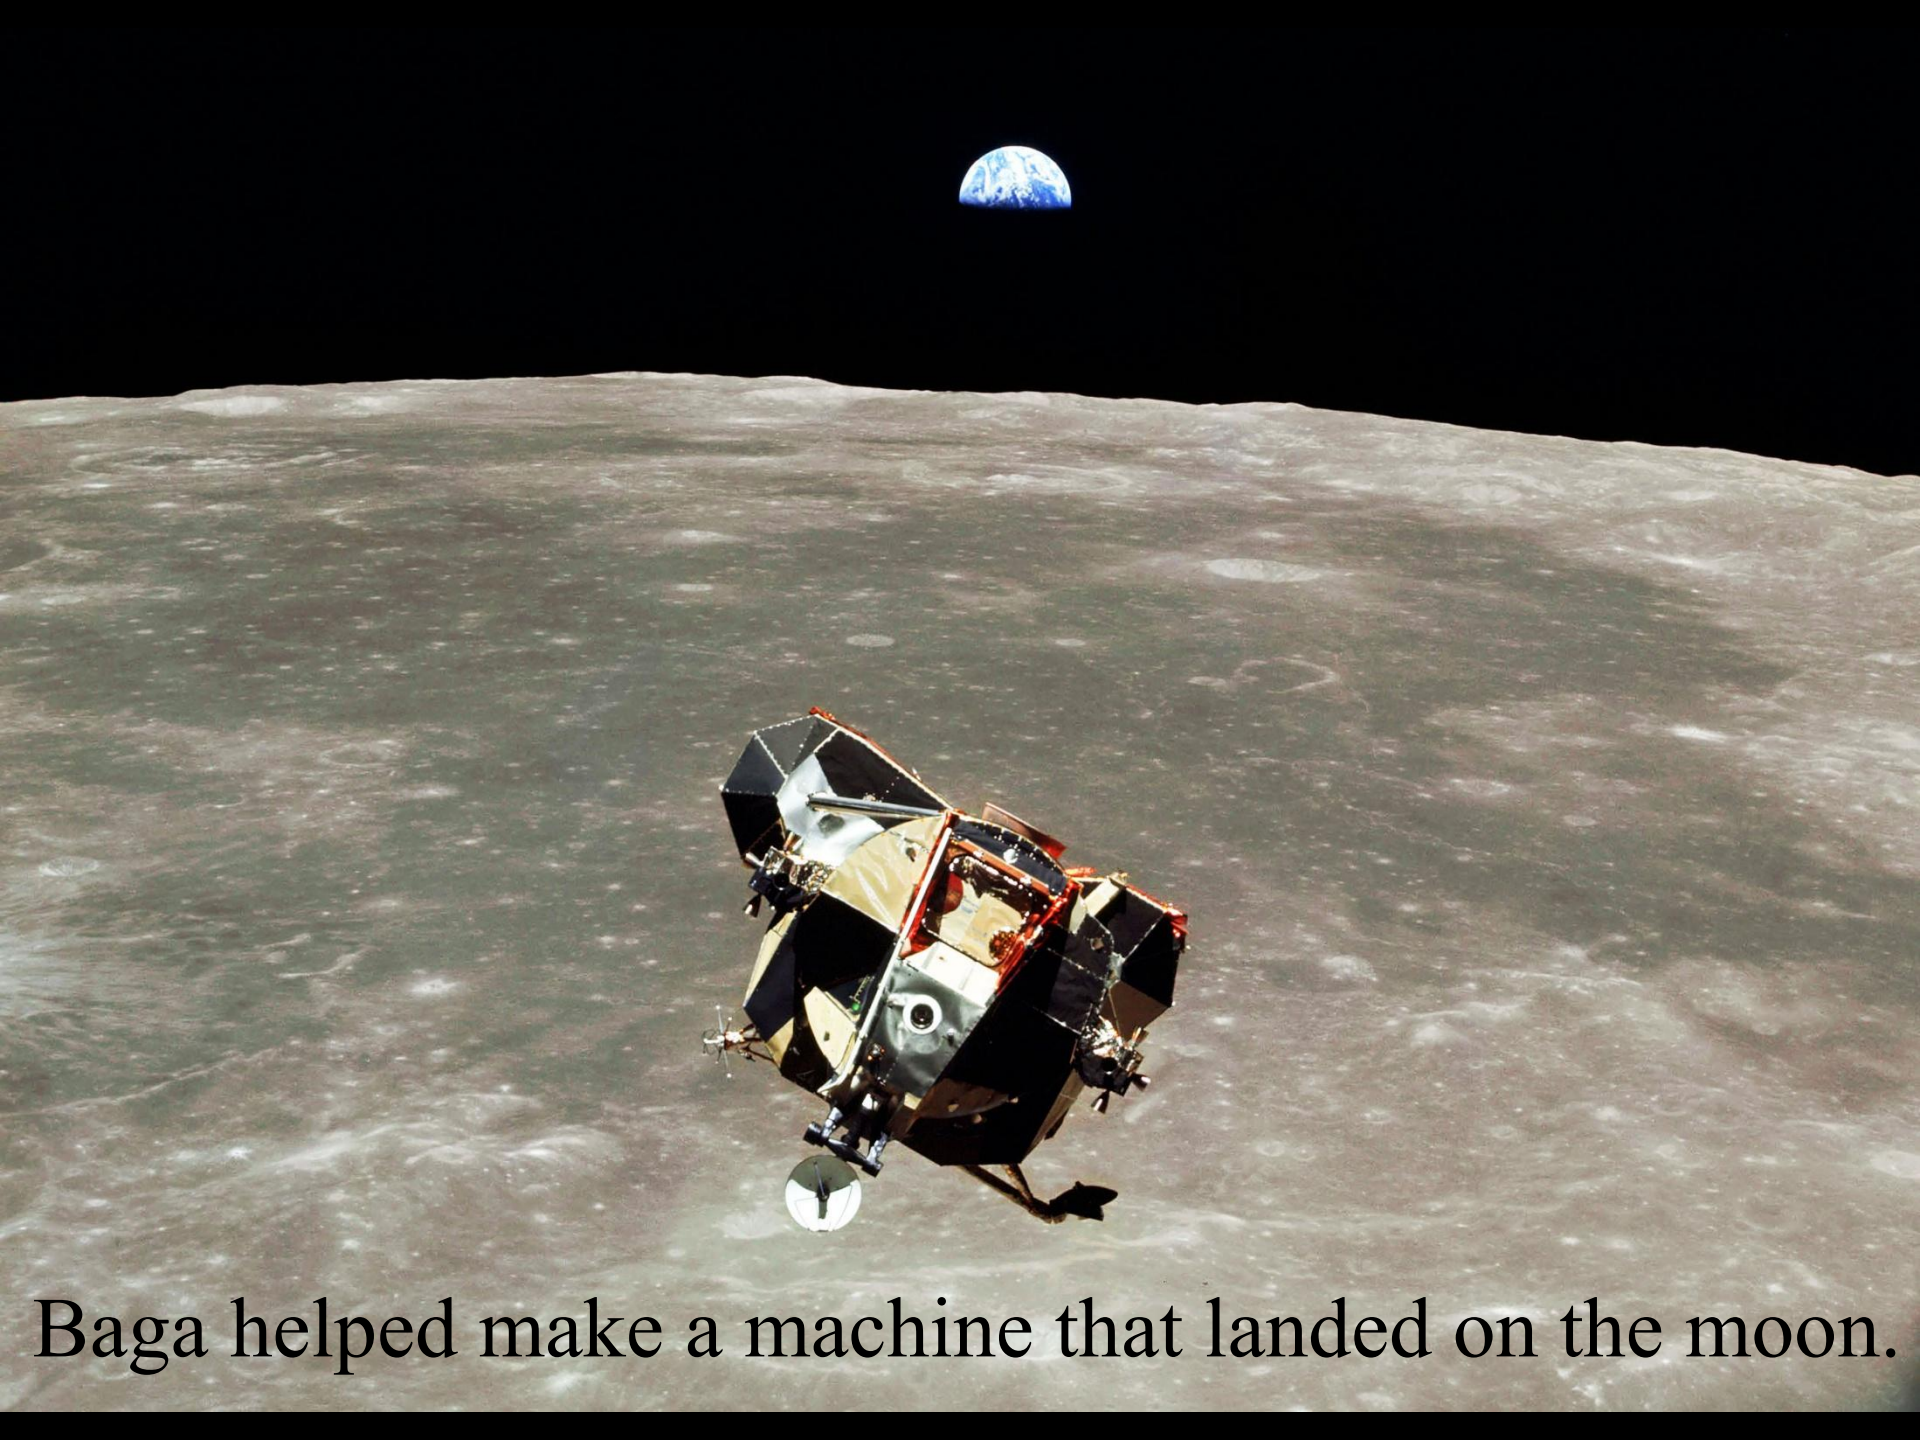

Bubby also made different kinds of art. Baga helped.

Bubby also taught classes in childbirth.

Baga helped make a machine that landed on the moon.

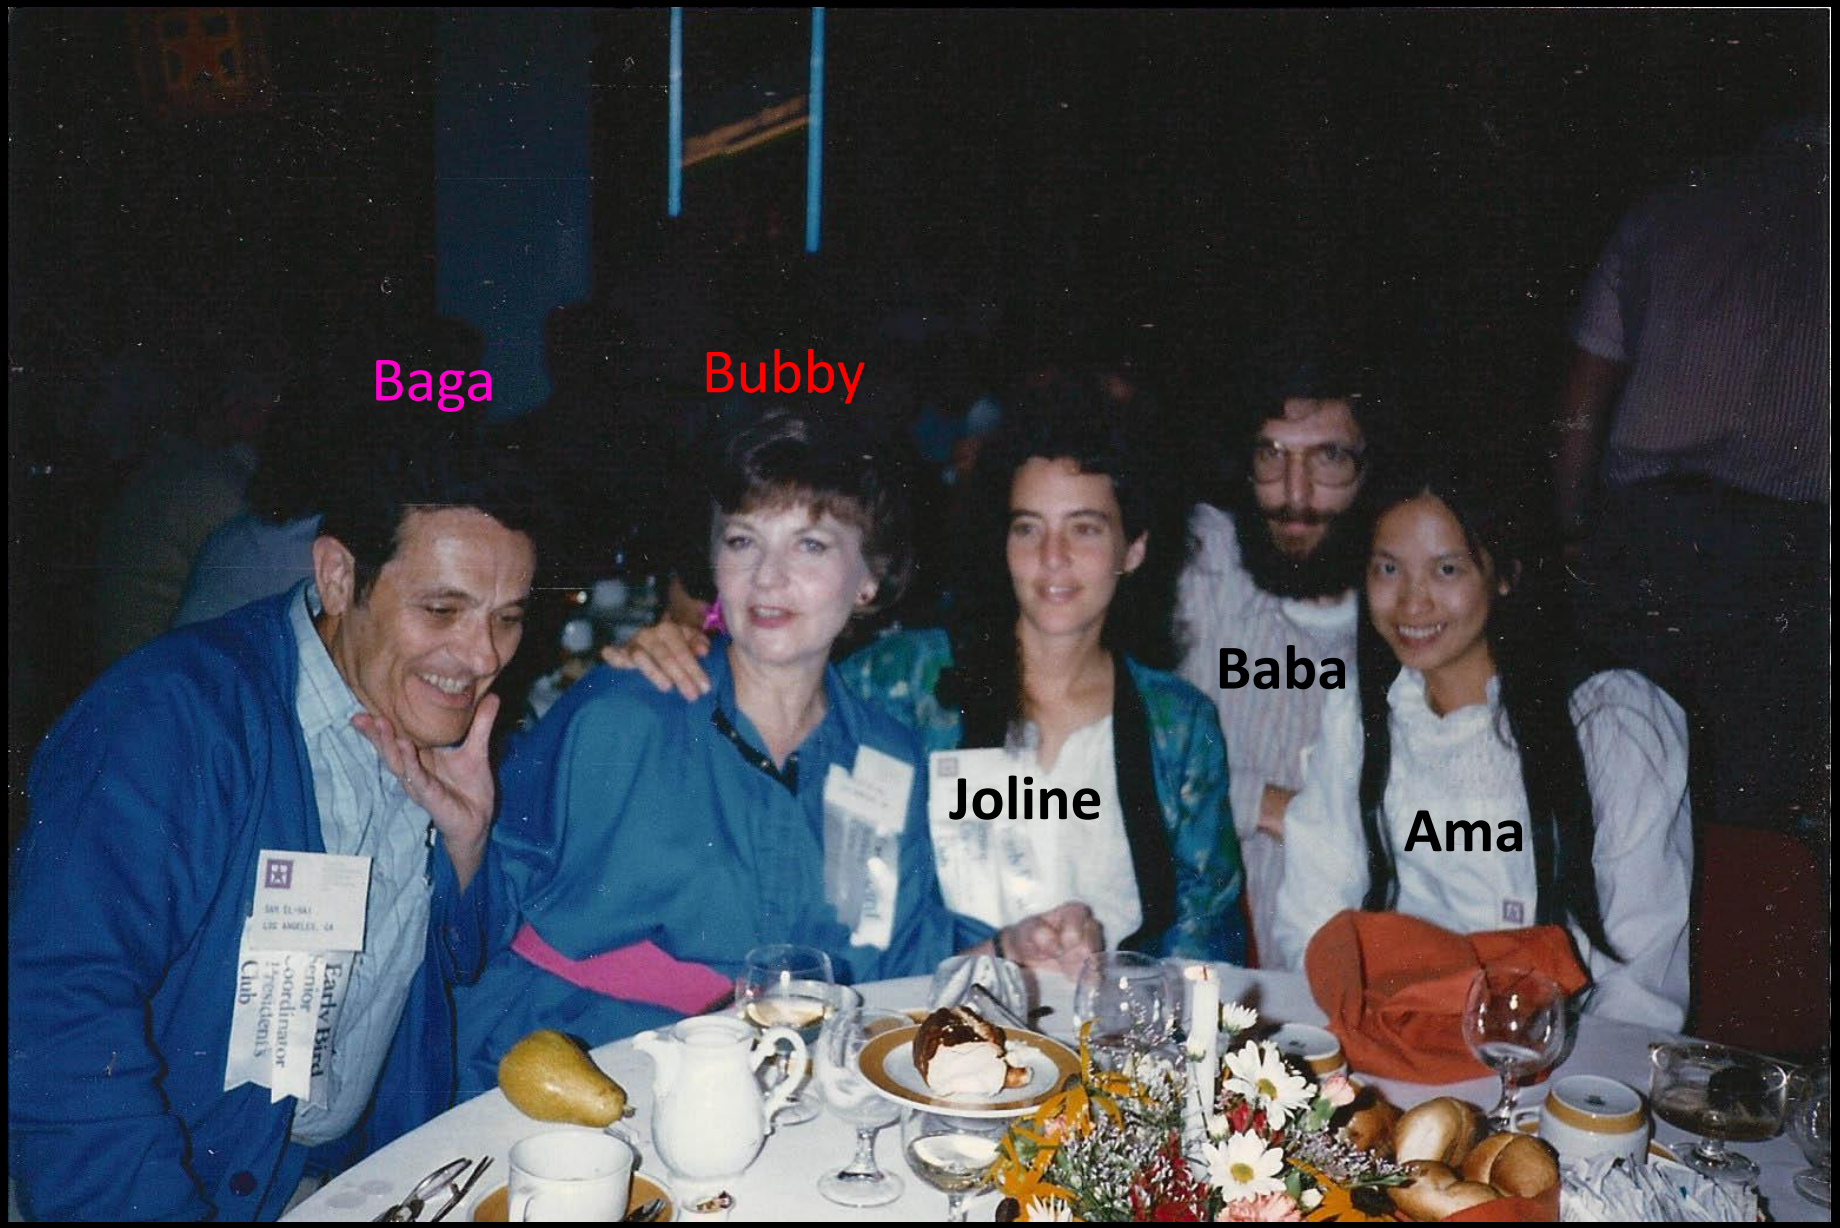

Eventually, all their children went away to live on their own (just as Surya and Linden will), and Bubby and Baga continued their lives together.

…with two dogs

They organized reunions in interesting places.
These reunions continue, even now.

They went to distant meetings,
often bringing some of their children with them.

They traveled to other countries.

After many years, Baga reached the end of his timeline. Bubby had to continue on alone.

Not really alone. There were her grandchildren.

And more grandchildren.

And more grandchildren.

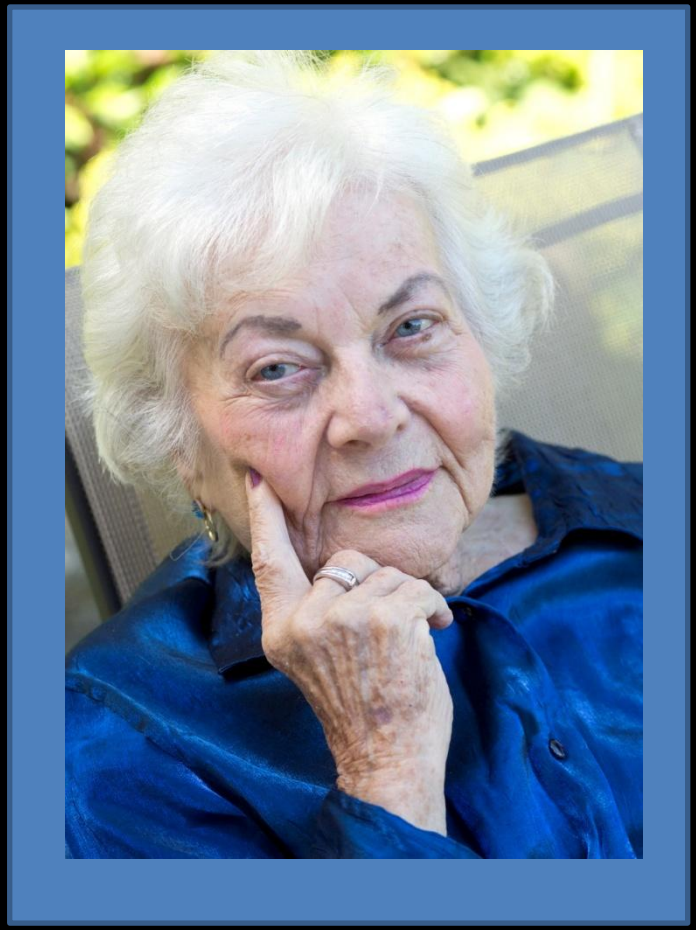

And she went on her own adventures.

She organized elaborate parties for her friends.

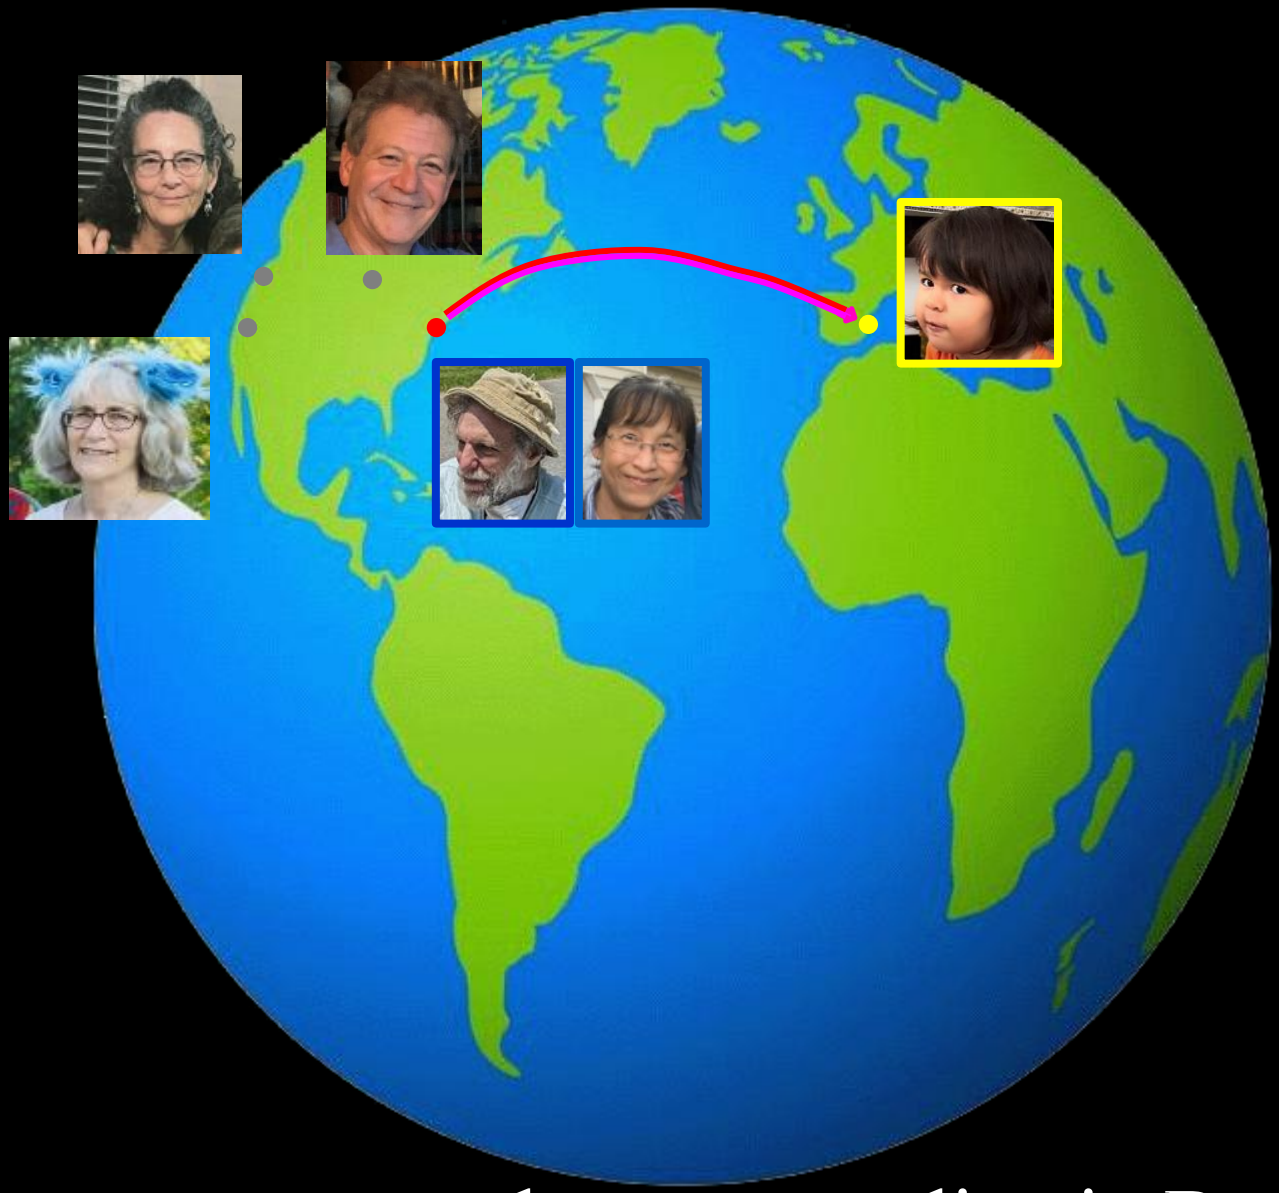

Bubby also reached the end of her timeline.
So Surya didn't have the chance to meet her.

Except in books, pictures, and recordings.

Bubby and Baga's ashes were mixed together.
They went to each of their four children.

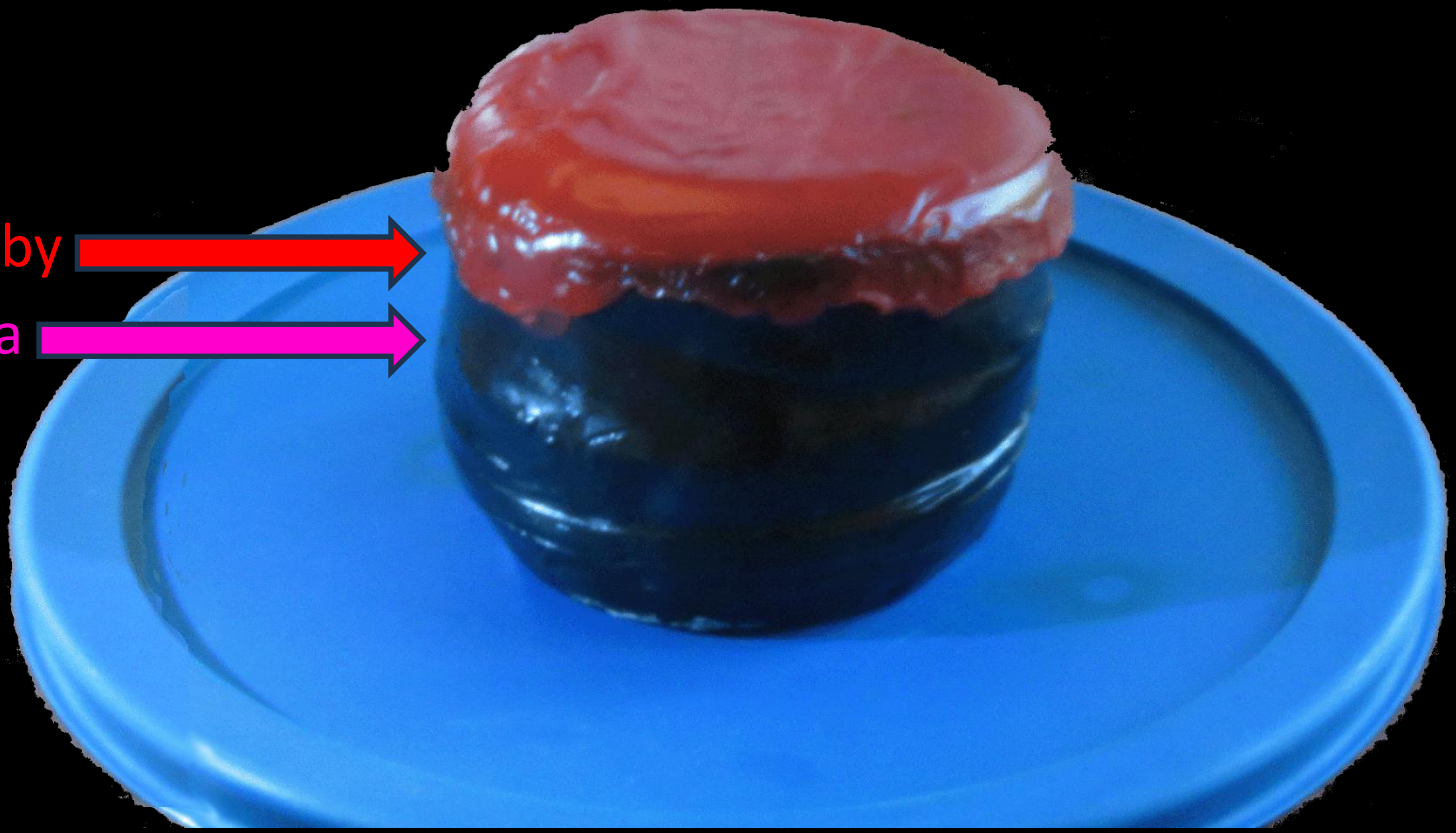

Some went across the ocean to live in Barcelona.

It traveled by plane. It took only a few hours.

Now some of their ashes are in a pot in Barcelona.

Now some of their ashes are in a pot in Barcelona, where they can overlap with Surya and Linden.
